Dear Sir/Madam,

Kind Attn : Quality Manager/ Technical Manager/ Laboratory Personnel/Internal Auditors

As you are already aware, in the global scenario of Conformity Assessment, Accreditation is playing important role in facilitating trade and commerce within and between all countries of the world. Accreditation bridges the gap in the testing capacity between different countries and help in bridging the trade barrier. It advances the national economy, benefit the health, safety and welfare of the public, and assist and protect consumers. The requirements of Accreditation of Laboratories in every country require all the laboratories undergoing accreditation to report the results that are comparable and are acceptable. This is to say - 'tested once, accepted everywhere'.

Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) is the National Standard Body of India charged with the responsibility of capacity building in the nation by way of providing quality training to industries, corporates, consumers and other stakeholders through its training wing that is National Institute of Training for Standardization (NITS) located at Noida.
