DRAFT INDIAN STANDARD IN WIDE CIRCULATION

Reference : PCD 25(27069)WC

Date : 06 December 2024

TECHNICAL COMMITTEE : Lubricants And their Related Products, PCD 25

To,

All concerned

Dear Madam/Sir,

The following document has been prepared by the Lubricants And their Related Products Sectional Committee, PCD 25. Please click here to view the document.

Document Number : PCD 25 (27069) WC

Title of the document : JUTE BATCHING OIL SPECIFICATION Third Revision of IS 1758

Document Type : Revision of Indian Standard (IS 1758 : 1986)

This document has following salient features which may require specific attention for your valuable comments:

- 1) Jute industry occupies a prominent place in the internal and export markets of India. It is therefore essential that the quality of jute goods manufactured in India should be of optimum quality. Finished jute goods usually contain 2 percent or more by mass of oil, which is essential for jute batching.*
- 2) This standard prescribes the requirements and the methods of sampling and test for jute batching oil.*
- 3) This revision has been brought out to keep pace with the latest technological developments and international practices. In this third revision, the following major changes have been made: a) To promote use of environment friendly products for jute batching application, two new categories of new generation, colorless, high flash point, poly-aromatic hydrocarbon (PAH) free, and non-toxic jute batching oils - Type 3 and Type 4 have been added; b) Type 3 jute batching oil is based on fully formulated product with an emulsifier system for making oil in water emulsion instantaneously by mixing it with water, without the need for any additional emulsifier additives at user end; c) For Type 4 jute batching oil, an emulsifier is to be added as per customer requirement at customer end before its use; and d) For these two types of jute batching oil, limit for pyrene content has been made more stringent and newer requirement of overall PAH content has been included.*
