FOREWORD

This Indian Standard (Part 4) was adopted by Bureau of Indian Standards, after the draft finalized by the Unani Sectional Committee had been approved by the Ayush Division Council.

The World Health Organization (WHO) has recognized the Unani medicine as an alternative system to cater the health care needs of human population. Unani medicine is one of the most well-known traditional medicine systems and draws on the ancient traditional systems of medicine of China, Egypt, India, Iraq, Persia and Syria. In fact, Unani medicine and herbal products are gradually more being used in many countries where modern medicine is easily available. India has accepted it as one of the alternative health care systems and has given it official status.

Unani medicine is based on the Hippocratic theory of four Humours, according to which any disturbance in the equilibrium of humours causes disease, and therefore the treatment aims at restoring the humoral equilibrium. The disease state is caused by the derangement of temperament or humor and retention of health is carried out by applying the various measures to render balance in the polar dimensions of six essential prerequisites of health. Temperament (Mizāj) of a patient is given great importance both in diagnosis and treatment of diseases. The fundamentals, diagnosis and treatment modalities of the system are based on scientific principles and holistic concepts of health and healing. Its holistic approach considers individual in relation to his environment and stresses on health of body, mind and soul.

In order to harmonizing the terminology regarding cardiovascular diseases, this part of Indian Standard will contribute to provide general, crosscutting terms and definitions to meet users' requirements. This standard provides technical terms which are specific to Unani medicine terminology pertaining to ear, nose and throat diseases (Amrāq-I-Udhun, Anf-O-Halq) as per Unani, diagnosis and etiological factors, signs and symptoms, treatment modalities, preparation of medicines, pharmacology, pharmacognosy and foods and beverages, etc.

This standard is published in six parts. The other parts in the series are:

- Part 1 standardized terminology used for fundamental principles
- Part 2 Standardized terminology used for diseases of head and nervous system
- Part 3 Standardized terminology used for diseased of eye
- Part 5 Standardized terminology for cardiovascular diseases
- Part 6 Standardized terminology for respiratory diseases

While formulation of standard, the inputs have been derived from information available in the public domain in print and electronic media inter-alia the Unani Pharmacopoeia of India, NAMASTE Portal, "WHO International Standard Terminologies on Unani Medicine" and authoritative classical books of Unani medicine.

The composition of the Committee responsible for the formulation of this standard is given in Annex A.

Bureau of Indian Standards

BIS is a statutory institution established under the Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016 to promote harmonious development of the activities of standardization, marking and quality certification of goods and attending to connected matters in the country.

Copyright

BIS has the copyright of all its publications. No part of these publications may be reproduced in any form without the prior permission in writing of BIS. This does not preclude the free use, in the course of implementing the standard, of necessary details, such as symbols and sizes, type or grade designations. Enquiries relating to copyright be addressed to the Head (Publication & Sales), BIS.

Review of Indian Standards

Amendments are issued to standards as the need arises on the basis of comments. Standards are also reviewed periodically; a standard along with amendments is reaffirmed when such review indicates that no changes are needed; if the review indicates that changes are needed, it is taken up for revision. Users of Indian Standards should ascertain that they are in possession of the latest amendments or edition by referring to the website-www.bis.gov.in or www.standardsbis.in.

This Indian Standard has been developed from Doc No.: AYD 04 (24525).
