

(PREVIEW)

Indian Standard

CODE OF PRACTICE FOR
DESIGN OF WOOD POLES FOR OVERHEAD
POWER AND TELECOMMUNICATION LINES

1. SCOPE

1.1 This standard covers method of design of wood poles made of both broad-leaved and coniferous species of timber, grown in India suitable for carrying overhead electric power transmission lines, telephone and telegraph circuits both for solid and jointed wood poles (see Note).

NOTE - The detailed specifications of full size wood poles and Jointed wood poles made of board-leaved and coniferous species of timber suitable for carrying over head electric power transmission lines, telephone and telegraph circuits are covered respectively in IS : 876-1970* and IS : 6056-1976†.